Jack the boy who was holding it, got such a fright that he dropped it. All the children huddled round watching, as the strange, coppery metallic rock moved and changed.

"Looked" says Thembi, "I can see arms and legs appearing!"

"Yes", says Susan "there's a head AND eyes AND ----" All the children shouted at once "THE Rock is changing rubbed his head and said, "Hello friends, I am Curtis COPPER and I am your COPPER SUPERHERO."

I have been lying in this patch of sand for thousands of years & just waiting to be discovered. Don't be afraid - I am about to take you on a journey into the magical world of copper starting more than 11,000 years ago when copper was first discovered
